Latino Leadership Program

Building a stronger, healthier Delaware requires us to invest in our young leaders and give them the right tools to succeed.

That's why I joined Perdue Farms this month as they announced $20,000 in support of La Plaza Delaware's new Latino Leadership Program. This new program will help further develop rising Latino leaders in Delaware by using a nationally recognized three-month curriculum that includes programming content, networking and team building skills.

The program is being offered to applicants at no cost and will further help to break down barriers for emerging leaders as we continue to address the equity gap in all sectors. Having a skilled, diverse workforce is critical to the success of our state. This program will undoubtedly have a positive impact in the lives of those who go through it, and a positive impact on communities throughout our state.

Opening of Hillside Park in Newark

Having a healthier Delaware means having safe and accessible parks in our communities.

This month, I took part in the official opening of Hillside Park in Newark. This new park will provide another safe space for kids and families to relax, play and exercise. It is a great addition to the many spectacular parks throughout our state.

Thanks to the City of Newark, University of Delaware and everyone who helped to make this project happen.

Pancreatic Cancer Awareness Month

November is Pancreatic Cancer Awareness Month, and I'm helping to raise awareness about the urgent need for more research on this devastating and often deadly form of cancer. Research for patients. Research for those we've lost. Research for all of us."
